COURTHOUSE, SOMERSET, Pa., Feb. 17.—A severe blow was dealt the defense in the "third degree" murder case today by one of the co-defendants of State Trooper Stacey Gundersen, the first to be brought to trial for the death of Frank C. Monaghan, 64.

Dr. H. E. Ralston, of Uniontown, one of the five men indicted as accessories who allegedly sought to "cover up" Monaghan's death, testified he did not believe the elderly hotelkeeper could have been fatally injured in a fall out of the Fayette county courthouse. Ralston said this explanation of Monaghan's death was given by District Attorney James A. Reilly, one of the seven men including Gundersen, indicted for murder.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A controversy involving President Roosevelt's judicial reform program today, Senators William E. Borah (R) of Idaho, and Edward R. Burke (D) of Nebraska, attacked a "future service" provision in the House bill authorizing supreme court justices to retire at the age of 70.

The provision would authorize the chief justice to assign duties to a retired justice on any circuit court of appeals if the latter were willing. Borah and Burke will seek to have it stricken out.

Question Girl Companions Of Missing Girl

(International News Service)

COATESVILLE, Pa., Feb. 17.—Schoolgirl companions of 16-year-old Helen Moyer, missing Coatesville high school sophomore, today were questioned by their teachers to ascertain if attempts were made recently to lure them into automobiles.

Belief in some quarters that a motorist may have made advances to other pupils before he abducted the Moyer girl prompted school authorities to question Helen's classmates.

Meanwhile efforts to locate the girl, who disappeared on the Coatesville-Medina highway near her home last Thursday, yielded scant clues as to her whereabouts. The girl's father, Absalom Moyer, reiterated the hope that federal investigators will join the local searches.

State police sought to obtain a list of Chester county residents owning models of cars corresponding to the broken bits of headlamp glass found at the roadside with the girl's tattered books, hat and shoes.

Lewis Threatens Coal Strike Now

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Voicing determination to call 400,000 soft-coal miners out on strike unless better working conditions are provided, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, arrived in New York today.

Prepared to meet him were representatives of the mine operators, and it was admitted by both sides that the conference was one of the most important labor discussions in months.

Lewis issued a defiant challenge as he arrived in New York. "I will be up there fighting for 400,000 men. Either they will be given higher wages and shorter working hours or I will call my men out on a general strike."

Should the conference end in an impasse, the United States will be faced with an even more dangerous strike than occurred in the automobile industry.

'Dream Railroad' Will Be Foundation Of State's Projected Super-Highway

HARRISBURG, Feb. 17.—William H. Vanderbilt's uncompleted "dream railroad" of more than two score years ago will be the foundation for a $50,000,000 all-weather Carlisle-to-Pittsburgh toll highway if plans under consideration today by the Earle administration materialize.

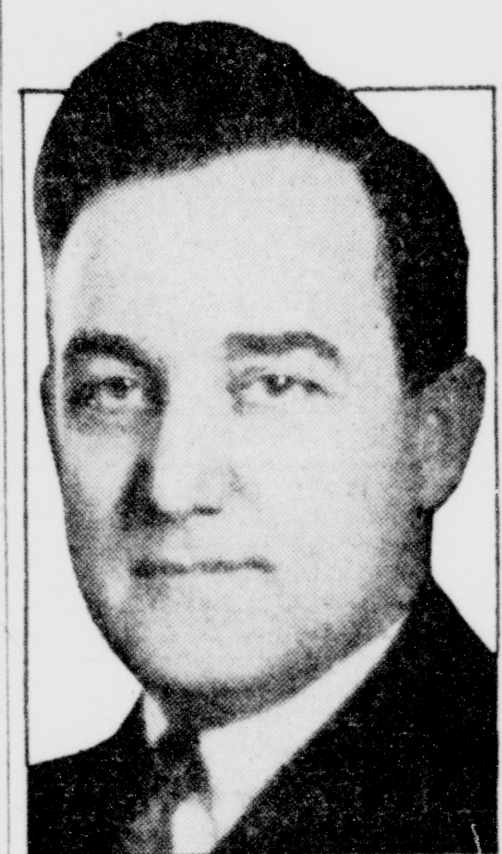

Revelation that such a plan was under consideration for "immediate" action came yesterday while Gov. George H. Earle was in Washington.

Fear Of Arms Race Alarming To Europe

(International News Service)

Whether Britain, spending $7,500,000,000 to defend herself against war, has only precipitated an arms race that must inevitably end in conflict was the question that alarmed Europe today.

Major international developments were:

- 1—Britons resignedly shouldered five-year taxation burden, but parliamentary opposition attacked vast scheme which is expected to give Britain 17 big battleships.
- 2—Germany foresaw five-power dash for arms supremacy costing more than ten billion dollars yearly.
- 3—Premier Mussolini summoned meeting of Fascist grand council for March 1 to canvass Italian military and naval strength.
- 4—Semi-blockade of Portugal as well as Spain planned as Portugal balked at non-interventionists' supervision of Spanish frontiers.
- 5—Rebel southern drive for Madrid was deadlocked with thousands of casualties. Insurgents mobilized youths, launching three-fold offensive on capital from north.

Tremendous Casualties Mark Spanish Fighting In Battle For Madrid

MADRID, Feb. 17.—Tremendous casualties reddened the muddy plains of the Jarama today where loyalist and rebel lines held firm by Madrid's "Verdun." Arganda, key to the Valencia highway.

Balked after ten days' fighting to cut off Madrid, Generalissimo Francisco Franco launched a three-fold offensive against the capital from the Sierra Guadarrama on the north and decreed mobilization of all men between the ages of 20 and 26 within nationalist territory—three-fifths of Spain.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 insurgents were killed or taken prisoner within the last four days on the plateau overlooking Arganda, according to a loyalist statement issued at Valencia.

Report 2,000 German Casualties
Two thousand Germans, it was unconfirmably reported, were among the killed and wounded.

A rebel communiqué at Salamanca, however, said: "Heavy leftist casualties were suffered in the Jarama sector, where the nationalists are straightening out their advance line."

"A leftist counter-offensive at three points immediately north of the capital was repulsed."

The three-column insurgent offensive was many miles north of Madrid, and not related to the triple (Continued On Page Two)

Britain Prepares To Spend Billions For Rearmament

Britons Prepare To Shoulder Huge Burden Of Taxation As Result

GOVERNMENT PLAN WILL BE ATTACKED

But Huge Rearmament Program Is Expected To Be Approved

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Staggering under the stupendous cost of the country's $7,500,000,000 rearmament plan, Britons today nevertheless prepared to shoulder the increased burden of taxation as a lesser evil than the risk of another war.

Laborite and liberal oppositionists and some conservatives, however, set themselves for biting attacks on the government during the two-day debate on the $2,000,000,000 arms loan beginning in the house of commons today.

Chief target of the assault is Sir Thomas Inskip, lawyer and lay church leader who, as minister for coordination of defense, will direct the spending of one of history's greatest armaments.

See Government Victory
Victory for the government's plans is viewed as certain, and predictions are that the schedule of three 35,000-ton battleships, seven cruisers, and two aircraft carriers announced for 1937 will be continued for the four succeeding years—giving Britain 17 new capital ships, including the two laid down at the beginning of the year.

When the new budget is announced April 1, income tax increases to a basic tax of five shillings in the pound (25 per cent) are expected. Cost of the arms program for 1937 will probably amount to $1,500,000,000, of which $1,000,000,000 will have to be raised by direct taxation.

But probably 95 per cent of Brit (Continued On Page Two)

Last winter, you do doubt recall, the mercury was very low, for days it stayed there sulkily at thirty-two degrees below. And you and I complained no end, about the cold and wintry blast, but let me say concerning that, that my complaint will be the last I'll ever make on winter time, for though the breezes nipped my cheek, it didn't give us grip and flu and leave us all inert and weak. The cold seemed like a tonic then, of open winters let's have no more, in winter time it should be cold, the weather's bright and thirty-four.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New understands that the tennis courts on Boyles field are to be put in playing condition this summer. This would certainly be a move that would be appreciated by the boys and girls of that section of the city. With small expense these tennis courts, unused for several seasons, could be fixed up for the benefit of a large number of players.

Project to plant thousands of red-bud trees on the streets and properties of New Castle and Lawrence county, sounds good.

Temperature reports show that the thermometers got down around a normal winter mark early this morning. The mercury registered around degree above zero in some sections of the city.

Croton Avenue, First, Epworth, Wesley, Mahoning and East Brook M. E. churches are among those who are having fellowship gatherings tonight in climax to the Million Unit Fellowship campaign.

New light poles are being erected on the north curb of East North street. They are metal, hollow and as high as a telephone pole.

Barring any sustained severe weather between now and spring, the secondary roads of the district will probably not require nearly as much work to put them in shape for summer, as was required last spring. Many of the highways were heaved last spring, but this condition is not likely to be prevalent this year.

By an unusual coincidence the body of the late city policeman, Robert Dukes, buried yesterday in Oak Park cemetery was laid away in a lot next to where the body of the late Clarence Campbell, slain by bandits, was buried in 1932.

Dead Man Bears Marked Resemblance To Mattson Kidnap Suspect

HAD SOUGHT TO ALTER APPEARANCE

(International News Service)
PORTOLA, Cal., Feb. 17.—G-men were enroute here today from San Francisco to examine the frozen body of a man whose description closely tallies with that of the fiend who kidnaped Charles Mattson, 10, in Tacoma Dec. 27, and murdered him while negotiating for ransom.
Before dying of exposure the man apparently attempted to alter his appearance so identification would be made difficult.
His fingertips were burned with acid; his eyebrows were plucked; and hair on the back of his hands was burned off.

Description Tallies
The victim, whose body was discovered Monday by a Western Pacific train crew who turned it over to Mrs. Alice Rees, Portola undertaker, was about 30 years old, weighed 140 pounds, was 5 feet 7 inches in height. His complexion was swarthy, his nose long and broad heavy.
These physical characteristics, which closely tallied with those of the fiendish "Tim" who killed the Mattson boy, caught the attention of Mrs. Rees who notified Federal Bureau of Investigation agents in San Francisco yesterday.
Mrs. Rees estimated the man died 48 hours before the body was discovered in a sidetracked Western Pacific work car.

FRESH CONTROVERSY ON COURT PROPOSAL

lower court," said Borah. "There is no reason on earth why we should attempt to lower the dignity of a supreme court justice."
It was the first attack on the retirement bill.
Borah favors passage of the retirement act, if the age limit were increased to 75. Borah is 71.
There was new agitation on Capitol Hill for submission of a constitutional amendment, calling for mandatory retirement of all federal judges at either 70 or 75. Congressional advocates of the President's plan to enlarge the supreme court by a legislative act have advocated the constitutional amendment as well. Many of its opponents likewise have urged such an amendment.
Expect Senate Action First
Senator Ellender (D) of Louisiana, friendly to the presidential plan, already has introduced a proposed amendment calling for mandatory retirement of supreme court justices at 70. He is willing to include all federal judges in his amendment, raise the mandatory age to 75 and grant permissive retirement at 70 if the jurist sought it. Ellender said:

"One phase of the resident's plan I want to make permanent. It is to provide for compulsory retirement of supreme court justices after they served their usefulness. His plan is optional."
In the House, administration leaders indicated they expected Senate action first on the President's program. The House judiciary committee adjourned until February 25. Public conversions to either side of the controversy were few, with the opponents reported to be gaining slowly. Two newcomers to the opposition ranks were Rep. Burdick, a New Deal Republican from North Dakota, and Rep. Gray (D) of Pennsylvania.
Meanwhile the cross-fire of oratory continued unabated from all sides.

Elaine told the court, in seeking $2525 per month temporary alimony from Barrymore, she lacked money to pay creditors who were hounding her for overdue bills.

Plenty Of Bills
Listed in her petition were the following monthly expenses:
Chauffeur, $100; maid, $75; managing agent, $100; rent, $350; groceries, $100; gas, light and heat, $100; dairy products, $100; caretaker, $125; personal incidentals, $125; car, $100; clothing, $750 and miscellaneous, $500.
Barrymore did not ask the court to wipe out his debts. He just wanted a holiday in his petition on file in federal court at Los Angeles, so that he could catch up with his payments in due time, if possible.
The next step in Barrymore's bankruptcy action will take place in 10 days, his attorney said, when a schedule of assets and liabilities must be filed.

ish public opinion was summed up by the Daily Express, which said editorially:

Cost Emphasized
On all sides the cost was emphasized. There was virtually a total failure of the press to draw the obvious inference that a gigantic European or even world armament races is likely to result.
Newspapers expressed the pious hope, however, that the government would lose no opportunity to secure such relaxation of international tension as might ease the financial burden on Britons.
The Daily Mail took a contrary stand, saying: "This is still not enough. The figure for five years is paltry, compared to the $6,000,000,000 Germany spends every year."
Extreme conservatives thought the same, adding that the program as outlined in yesterday's "white paper" is too vague.

Ask Opinion On Dukes' Status On Compensation

Solicitors Requested To Give Opinion In Case; Dukes Off Duty When Attacked

City officials have asked city solicitors to render an opinion as to the status of the late Robert Dukes in regard to the compensation law. Dukes was injured in an alleged assault, and death resulted from complications growing from his injuries, according to reports.
When the alleged trouble occurred Dukes was off duty.
However, it has been pointed out that the trouble arose from out of parking and he is said to have told the men he was an officer.
An encounter ensued later.
The company which carries insurance on city employees already has been notified of Dukes' death. Dukes left a widow and two children and whether or not they receive compensation remains to be determined.

proposal was a serious threat in the form of price-cutting and competition to other roads.
Shock of seeing his "dream" pass into oblivion was too much for Vanderbilt. It was shortly after the decision to drop the project that he died. A heart ailment, superinduced by the shock, was blamed for death.
Survey Is Made.
Feasibility of the project as proposed by Governor Earle was reported favorably following a survey by engineers on a WPA project.
The administration, it was learned, will first seek federal funds. If this fails, Governor Earle said, private enterprise is ready to underwrite the gigantic proposal.
The commonwealth proposes to complete, and perhaps widen, the unfinished tunnels to accommodate four-lane highway traffic. It was understood that the all-weather road would not interfere with other east-west highways.
Governor Earle estimated the highway would cost between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 and would cut through the Blue Kittanning, Tuscarora, Sideling Hill, Allegheny and Negro mountains and Laurel hill.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Hartsuff Funeral Time.
Funeral services for Mrs. Sarah Leslie Hartsuff, widow of Odd J. H. Hartsuff, will be conducted at the residence, 1412 Highland avenue, on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. John J. McElvaine, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will be in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mrs. Hartsuff, one of New Castle's most highly respected residents, passed away at her home on Tuesday afternoon. She had been an invalid for the past year and with the shock of her husband's death on November 5 of last year her condition took a turn for the worse, and for three months had been critical.
Mrs. Hartsuff was born and reared in New Castle, daughter of an old family, John Pressley and Sarah McCune Leslie. She passed all of her lifetime here with the exception of 13 years in Braddock when her husband was general superintendent of the Edgar Thomson plant of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation.
Three years ago last August, when Mr. Hartsuff retired after his distinguished career in the steel business, the couple returned to New Castle and made their home on Highland avenue. The community's pleasure at having them back again was soon turned to sorrow with Mr. Hartsuff's sudden illness and death in 1936 and his widow's passing yesterday.

Mrs. Hartsuff was a member of the First Presbyterian church. She leaves one daughter, Tade (Mrs. Edwin W. Thomas) of Lisbon, O.; two grandchildren, John Hartsuff Thomas and Edwin Wayne Thomas, and one sister, Mrs. Nell L. Hyatt, who resided at the Highland avenue address.

John W. McNulty
John W. McNulty, aged 78 years, an almost lifetime resident of Plaingrove township, died at the home of his son, J. A. McNulty, 1626 Bancroft avenue, Youngstown, O., on Tuesday night at 11:25. He had been ill with influenza and on February 7 he suffered a stroke of apoplexy and in his weakened condition was unable to recover.

Mr. McNulty was born at the Plaingrove community on February 18, 1859, son of John and Mary Childs McNulty, and passed his life there as a farmer. He was a member of the Plaingrove United Presbyterian church.
His wife, Mary Elizabeth Allen McNulty, preceded him in death. Surviving are three sons, J. A. McNulty, at whose home in Youngstown he had been staying for the past several months, R. J. and R. G. McNulty, of Plaingrove township; six grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Maud Snyder and Miss Laura McNulty, of Plaingrove township, and Miss Grace McNulty, of Pittsburgh, and three brothers, Ira of Iowa, Ernest of Dubois, Pa., and C. D., of Plaingrove.

The body will be brought to the home of R. G. McNulty in Plaingrove Thursday afternoon and funeral services will be conducted in the Plaingrove U. P. church with the pastor, Rev. J. C. Fulton, in charge Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Charles Dana Gibson Funeral.
Funeral services for Charles Dana Gibson were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from his late residence in New Wilmington, private services being held at the home and later services in the Lebanon U. P. church in charge of Rev. Dr. J. R. Neale, pastor of the U. P. church in New Wilmington.
The pallbearers were relatives, and interment was made in Lebanon cemetery.

Louis Paul Pagley
Louis Paul Pagley, aged 44 years, of 222 South Jefferson street, died in the New Castle hospital at 9:30 o'clock this morning after a week of illness.

He was born in Italy, son of Louis and Mary Theresa Pagley, and was brought to New Castle when a child four years old. Twenty years ago he married Clara King, who survives. He was an employee of the WPA and a member of St. Vitus church.

Surviving are his wife; four daughters, Elizabeth, Mary, Celia and Joan; two sons, Joseph and Junior; half-brothers John and Charles Sbarro, and sisters Mrs. Anna Buissi and Mrs. Clara Retorto, this city.
The body has been removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Buissi, 2 Center street. The funeral time will be announced later.

During the funeral sermon Rev. Stough paid tribute to the memory of the deceased officer and touched upon the tragedy and violence of the manner in which he had met death. He deplored the "seed planted by Satan" which had brought as fruit the death of a faithful servant of the law.
Rev. Stough's sermon text was from the 91st Psalm, and he closed with prayer and benediction. Dr. McGeorge offered prayer and read the scripture.

Following the services the city police formed a lane of honor from the house to the street through which the pallbearers, all police, carried the flag-draped casket bearing their late comrade. The pallbearers were Patrolmen Lester Harper, Robert Hanna, Harry Finer, Budd Fleeger, H. E. Richards, Carl Wallace, David Nelson and Sergeant Grover Syling.

The funeral cortege, with all police of the city marching in the fore and with the stalwart pallbearers alongside the hearse, wound its way through North street to Croton avenue, west in Washington street and up North Mill street. When the officers reached North and North Mill streets they formed another lane of honor through which the entire funeral procession passed on to Oak Park cemetery.

Mail Carrier Faces Charge

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Henry Briggs, a postman whose feet hurt, was under arrest today, technically charged with delaying delivery of United States mail.
But, according to postal authorities, what he actually did was throw letters into an apartment incinerator to save himself the trouble of delivering them.
Assistant Federal Attorney Quinn said Briggs explained:

Pittsburgh Judge Forced To Cancel Engagement Here

Fathers-Sons Dinner Speaker Gets Doctor's Ban; Seek Speaker

Judge Benjamin Lenchner of the Allegheny county courts will be unable to deliver his scheduled address before New Castle's community fathers' and sons' banquet in the Cathedral on Friday evening, February 26, banquet leaders were notified today.
The prominent Pittsburgh jurist wrote General Chairman Alfred H. Owens that his physician yesterday ordered him to cancel all speaking engagements for the next month or two in order to combat a throat illness from which he has been suffering.
We are very sorry that Judge Lenchner will not be able to speak, Chairman Owens said. "We regret it very much. The banquet, however, will be held and within a few days we hope to announce a speaker who will be heard in Judge Lenchner's place."

Throughout the city over 2000 tickets had been distributed today, it was learned. The goal of the sales this year is 800 or more.

EVENING ASSEMBLY FOR BRIDGE-AT-EIGHT

Delightfully informal, was the gathering of Bridge-At-Eight club members Tuesday evening, in the home of Jane Leight, East Clay street. The usual round of card playing claimed attention, prizes falling to Mrs. George J. Cather and Florence Moctimer. Mrs. Robert McBurney was a special guest who shared.

At a later hour, the group was invited into the dining room where they were seated about a table beautifully appointed in the Valentine motif, red and white tones predominating in the details. A delicious lunch was enjoyed by the glow of white candles arranged in branching candelabra which adorned the center. The hostess was aided by her mother, Mrs. William Leight, and Mrs. Robert McBurney.

The next bi-weekly event will take place March 2, at the residence of Louise Mitchell, Leasure avenue.

PAST CHIEFS HAVE DINNER-MEETING

Washington birthday suggestions were prominent in the decorations for the dinner-meeting which Past Chiefs Pythian Sisters held Tuesday evening in a popular tearoom. Covers were placed for 18 guests and following the serving of a delicious menu, the women held a business session at which an election of officers featured.

Mrs. Anna Cochran was named as the new president; Miss Ethel Douglas, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Maxwell, secretary-treasurer.

Returning to the dining room again, beano was played with Mrs. Jennie Reaie winning the trophy. On March 16 the next regular meeting will take place in the home of Mrs. Flora Sowash, Spruce street, with Mrs. Anna MacDonald co-hostess.

MRS. G. F. FALLS HONORED AT PARTY

A. Pond, Mrs. Hazel Bassinger, Mrs. Lucille Falls, Mrs. Anna Pyle, Mrs. Myrtle Klingensmith, Mrs. Edwin Cowles and others.

LONGFELLOW'S GARDENS DESCRIBED FOR CLUB

February being a month of notable birthdays, the Mahoningtown Garden club built the program for its meeting Tuesday evening, around the topic "Famous Men", particularly stressing Longfellow.

The meeting took place in the home of Mrs. F. W. Guy, on North Liberty street, with Mrs. Richard Gwilym conducting the business period in the early absence of Mrs. Richard Cooper, the president.

There was a report for red bud trees by Mrs. George Horchler, chairman of the committee for the Mahoningtown club.

Mrs. Gwilym reported for the committee named for the planting in the triangle at the intersection of the Mt. Jackson and Wampum roads. Co-operation with the state highway department, and the North Beaver Garden club is being lent by the Mahoningtown club in beautifying this spot south of the city.

Mrs. R. M. Neal, program chairman, was absent last night, so Mrs. W. W. Wallace substituted. Roll call was answered by naming "Famous Men Born This Month," and there was a talk by Mrs. W. C. Patterson, on Longfellow, his life, his garden at Portland, Maine, and his poems.

Her article was very interesting and authoritative the information being obtained direct from Mrs. Wing, president of the Garden club in Portland, which has cared for Longfellow's garden for the past 12 years, as one of its projects.

To make her talk more realistic, Mrs. Patterson showed pictures of the beautiful garden, and in conclusion, she read two of Longfellow's appropriate poems, "Flower-de-Luce" and "Flowers".

Mrs. Wallace gave timely reminders prepared by Mrs. Neal, and Mrs. W. H. Leight read a clipping concerning roadside legislation.

Mrs. D. C. Schenck had the diversity number, introducing Mrs. E. C. Hulbert who gave a delightful talk on "Feathered Friends". This concluded the program, with the exception of vivid descriptions by Mrs. F. W. Guy, the hostess, who told of the Bok Tower in Florida, which she recently visited. She spoke of the flowers and bird sanctuaries about the famous spot which is also noted for its chimneys.

Lunch followed, the table being centered with a colorful cyclamen plant in shades of rose. Narcissi formed other flower arrangements.

The next meeting is dated for Tuesday, March 16, at the home of Mrs. Richard Gwilym, Madison avenue.

TUESDAY KENSINGTON LUNCHEON GUESTS

Tuesday Kensington associates gathered in the home of Mrs. John Martin on Park avenue yesterday afternoon for a social time, with Mrs. Frank Kelly hostess.

The occasion was in the form of a 1 o'clock luncheon, covers being arranged for sixteen guests at the large dining room table, which was nicely appointed. A delicious menu in keeping with the lenten period, was served.

An original Valentine game planned by Mrs. Paul D. Weller, later claimed attention and provoked much amusement. Special guests sharing were Mrs. N. A. Kelly of this city and Mrs. Fred Herpst of Pittsburgh.

On March 2, the club will gather with Mrs. E. U. Snyder on Winter avenue, for a luncheon party.

PARTY GIVEN FOR YOUNG COUPLE

A group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Tanner, 910 Beckford street, Monday evening, to honor Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kroen, a bride and groom of recent date. The latter will be remembered as Margaret Baka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Baka, 712 City Line street, prior to her marriage.

The affair was in the form of a miscellaneous shower, and when the evening was at its height, the young couple was presented with a number of beautiful and serviceable gifts to use in their home.

Preceding this feature, the guests entered into a program of games, music and other diversions. Those receiving prizes included: Mrs. Michael Clavelli, Mrs. Ivor Johns, Olga Johnson and Helen Strawnick. The door award was carried off by Viola Neyman.

Special music was contributed by Mrs. William Tanner, and the entire setting was arranged in keeping with the Valentine motif. The dining table was centered with a huge heart, with the names of the honored couple inscribed on the top.

In serving delicious refreshments, Mrs. William Tanner was assisted by the following co-hostesses: Mrs. Charles Tanner, Mrs. Michael Clavelli, Camilla Tanner and Marie Pack. Others who aided were Helen Strawnick and Alice Johnson.

DINNER PARTY AT JESSIE HARPER HOME

Members of the 1936 Guard club of Review 98, Women's Benefit Association, were dinner guests at the home of Miss Jessie Harper, Rose avenue, Tuesday evening. Miss Anna Patterson was co-hostess for the affair in which 22 persons were present.

A delicious dinner was served at 6:30 by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. R. Kerr, Mrs. Martha Moncrief and Mrs. Naomi Clements, all of whom were special guests. Other special guests included Mrs. Robert Clarke, Mrs. Luella Dempsey and Betty Mae Kerr.

The dinner table was decorated with beautiful flowers, and each place was marked with attractive favors. During the dinner, the guests presented Miss Jessie Harper who has been captain of the team, with a beautiful gift.

Miss Anna Patterson, past president, was also remembered by the guards. Evening hours were spent playing 500 with prizes awarded to Mrs. Catherine McClintock and Mrs. Helen Dunlap.

Next regular meeting of the team will be held on Thursday evening, March 2, in the home of Mrs. Rebecca McKissick, John street, with Mrs. Wallie Davis as co-hostess.

BRITAIN NEEDS TWO BILLIONS

CHANCELLOR of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain made a report in the House of Commons recently which holds a certain academic interest in the United States. He said that Great Britain plans to float a defense loan not exceeding two billion dollars to finance a vast scheme of military development involving rearmament in every phase.

This decision may be interpreted as another disturbing sign of the precarious condition of European affairs and as reflecting Great Britain's determination that she shall not be left behind in the mad race for military power.

There is no certainty that war will be the ultimate result of this race, though this conclusion seems logical.

No doubt exists, however, that the people of Europe are being burdened with a debt which will one day produce economic disaster and misery in numerous forms.

TAX GATHERERS GROW BOLDER

The Legislatures of Maryland and Oregon have before them bills levying a tax of $5 per annum on each radio set in the respective states. Class taxation is becoming more and more prevalent as Legislatures find themselves confronted with ever-increasing demands for revenue, but the proposal to tax radio sets is about the boldest step in that direction that has yet been taken. If it were countenanced, the field would be wide open to extend class taxation to pianos, refrigerators, bath tubs, alarm clocks, grandfather's easy chair or anything else that the legislators and taxgatherers thought might produce revenues with the least squawk from the taxpayers.

There seems to be no limit to the ingenuity of the taxing authorities.

WHO WILL PAY PENSIONS?

According to Dr. Louis I. Dublin, statistician for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, continuation of the noticeable decline in America's birth rate will raise a serious question, some years hence, as to the source of funds with which to pay the pensions now being voted so freely in the various states.

By 1980, according to Dr. Dublin, 36 per cent of the population will be over 50 years of age. There will be one-third as many children as there are now, and three times as many oldsters.

It rather looks as though the old age pension plan, under those circumstances, will be tantamount to an attempt to raise ourselves by our own bootstraps.

SINGLENESS OF PURPOSE

A newspaper columnist finds among the "leading lights of our financial firmament" some of the worst bores in the world.

The "leading lights of the financial firmament" will not be offended, at least not many of them, for the simple reason that in their opinion columnists, except those writing on financial affairs, are the world's worst bores.

Somebody has said that there are no bores. There are only those who are bored.

In a company of bankers the banker is probably the most interesting person in the world. In a company of columnists certainly the most interesting person in the world is a columnist. But the banker is not interested in the columnist unless he has money to invest, and the columnist is not interested in the banker except as grist for his column.

Financiers are criticized for being narrow and for having single track minds. But doesn't that indictment fit every occupation? In some quarters it is deemed a quality essential to success.

SUGGESTS PEDESTRIANS' CLUBS

A judge who proposes forming a club "for the rights of people on foot," probably intended to do for pedestrians what automobile clubs do for drivers, has a good idea. But if he carries it out, he should see, as good auto clubs are now supposed to do, that his club members are as regardful of their duties as their rights.

In the city where this proposal is made, it is said that while 73 per cent of last year's traffic fatalities involved pedestrians, they were at least partly to blame in 94 per cent of the cases. A local observer is led to remark that the pedestrian's worst enemy is himself.

Perhaps we should still assume that pedestrians as a class are more sinned against than sinning. But there is plenty of opportunity for them to help reduce traffic perils by such sensible precautions as these: not sauntering across the street in front of a waiting line of cars that have the light in their favor; not dodging into a stream of traffic from behind parked cars in the middle of a block; not acting in any situation as if they were defying motorists to run over them. Such practices are suicidal.

FOR SUSTAINED RECOVERY

Balancing of the Federal budget and avoidance of practices and policies that tend to restrict output or prevent the increase of productive efficiency are cited in the annual report of the Brookings Institution as the requisites of sustained economic recovery.

According to this viewpoint, the nation cannot hope to foster continued business improvements unless it puts its own financial house in order and stops interfering with the basic processes of industry.

"The opportunity for a great expansion along clearly defined lines," says the report, "has never been greater than it is today." However, this opportunity can be seized only in conjunction with Federal fiscal and economic policies that coincide with the actual needs of the industrial order.

Though conceding that increased purchasing power must be had, the institution declares that this can come only through enhanced productivity with consequent lowering of price levels.

Political Utopians may differ with these common sense findings. But to the real leaders of the nation's business the conclusions reached will be readily accepted as comprising a sound criterion for government action in the day's immediately ahead.

A hollow glass rolling pin has appeared on the market and, of course, it is adaptable to the general rolling pin uses of tradition.

Crime doesn't go unpunished. It just seems that way because a man commits forty crimes and pleads guilty to the least.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE

Several months ago I said in this column, while trying to answer a father's question, that there is in some cases far too much insistence that the high school student shall announce his vocational choice. In answer to that remark came a letter from Sylvan A. Yager, vocational director of the Laboratory school Indiana State Teachers' College, at Terre Haute, Ind., challenging my advice.

While lecturing at that college a few months later, I learned of the splendid guidance work he has been doing there, especially in co-operation with parents. I had a chat with him. While we did not wholly agree on a few matters, I prevailed upon him to promise to write me a few paragraphs about his program. At last he has fulfilled that promise, and here they are for your consideration.

"Among the more important features of our program are the following: First, we urge a rather early selection of an occupation. Then we can plan each pupil's high school course so that he can get the subjects that will be most valuable in preparing for the vocation selected.

"This plan has three very important advantages: In the first place it forces a pupil to focus his attention on this important problem early in his high school career, thus providing ample opportunity for study and observation and adequate preparation.

"In the second place, it is possible for a pupil to change his vocational objective in case his earlier selection seems inconsistent with his interests, and still be able to prepare for his new vocational objective.

"In the third place, in case a change is necessary, the experience in making the change tends to impress on the pupil the importance of this question.

"The second feature of our plan is the fact that parents play an important part in our program. Frequent conferences between parents, pupils and the director of guidance permit each to contribute much to the solution of this important problem.

"A third feature is the fact that our whole program tends to focus on or project the attention of the pupil on his future, and thus help him evaluate his present school experiences in terms of future needs."

Mechanization Adds Jobs.
Expanding Markets Needed.
Superstitious Against Change.By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

WE HAVE had an observer out getting a line on the number of men displaced by mechanization. His first reports are startling—in the other direction.

Mechanization is adding jobs. New fields are being developed. In the steel industry in particular, new uses have been found for steel since it is highly mechanized. The companies that have mechanized the most are the busiest. Their present payrolls are record-breakers.

READJUSTMENTS
There are readjustments, of course. Many men are displaced. They, unfortunately, are not fitted, not trained for other tasks. Caught in this change, they are the victims.

The fault seems not to lie in mechanization, but the failure of government and industry to prepare men for change, to train them, under pay, to keep step with progress.

Our observer has gone deeply into this. He does not think Henry Ford doing this very thing.

The federal government would have to raise less relief money if it put men under steady wage to learn tasks that modernization demands.

In brief, the blame lies not in mechanization, but in an economic system that fails to keep step with progress, in an economic system that fails to make the benefits of progress open to all.

REAL DANGER

Our financial observers are not so optimistic as our modernization observers. They see the necessity, with greater productive power, of expanding markets.

Whereas, foreign markets are contracting. Huge sums of wealth, huge amounts of useless gold still pour into the United States. The result is unfortunate. Countries that would be good traders with the United States are drained of credit.

Eventually, unless this trend can be checked, there will be universal financial collapse.

It is more important to the worker, to the farmer and to the merchant, as well as the banker and the manufacturer, that international economic equilibrium be obtained—and quickly.

The present maladjustment of international wealth can create a disaster of terrible proportions, our New York financial friends tell us.

SUPERSTITIONS

It is queer how, in every age, there is a superstition that amounts to a virtual dread against change.

If man would heed it, there would be no progress. There would be merely retrogression.

A man who preaches change is a prophet without honor—in his own age.

Whether it be mechanization or social or economic readjustment, the souls who would go ahead—to save man from disaster—are subject to torrents of maledictions. That has been the story through the ages.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

SUCH IS FAME.

The Nation knows Irvin Cobb. It can remember when he went to war in a taxicab back in 1914. It has heard his oft told tale of the travel-indebriate who had the delirium tremens and it can remember the late Charlie Van Loan, who wrote the delightful automobile stories which Wallie Reid and Theodore Roberts portrayed so cleverly on the Silent Screen, but it knows little about Phil Kubel, an inveterate practical joker and who knows William Phillips much as does Willie Lyon Cobb.

As one might well guess it is pretty hard to get the better of Irvin Cobb in a battle of wits, but Phil Kubel recalls Cobb's first visit to Los Angeles, and a trick Charlie Van Loan played on him then which decidedly "got the goat" of the famous humorist. Phil then was working for C. C. Parker, the man who first made Los Angeles book conscious, and Van Loan, after priming Phil, took Cobb in there.

"Phil," he said, "I want you to meet Irvin S. Cobb."

"Glad to meet you, Mr. Clubb," said Phil readily. Van Loan and Cobb exchanged a smile.

"Have you Mr. Cobb's book, Old

Insane Asylum At Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Is Scene Of Fire

Nurses Do Courageous Work In Caring For Half-Hysterical Patients

(International News Service) POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Safe from a fire which swept through wards in which they were about to retire for the night, 300 insane women today were under special care of doctors after being led, screaming and half-clad, from danger as flames wrecked their rooms in the Hudson river state asylum.

Courageous nurses, whom the patients followed trustingly, prevented what might have been a catastrophe. Once out of danger, however, many of the patients became hysterical, and had to be given quieting sedatives.

Cries of the rescued were taken up by hundreds of others of the 5,000 patients, but they also were calmed as the blaze died down.

Clerks Write 839 Money Orders In Day; Sets Record

Money order-writing records at the New Castle post office hit what is believed to be a new high on Monday when clerks at two windows wrote a total of 839 orders, it was learned today.

The same clerks turned out 532 orders on Tuesday.

On an ordinary day, the post office pointed out, about 250 money orders are written. When 839 or 532 are written, that's just self-descriptive.

Postal officials explained the window rush resulted from a number of things, chiefly the current haste for money orders for new state automobile operators' licenses, the haste for orders for filing state personal property tax returns, due last Monday, and the fact that money orders and not cash must accompany all payments at the local revenue office in the Federal building.

The heavy writing work in the daytime has meant night bookwork for the money order force.

County Federation Hears Fine Program On Education, Tuesday

Defining so called "Progressive Education" as a protest against formalism in modern schools, and showing that progressive education doesn't depend upon equipment, but it is the attitude of the teacher and administration toward organization, Dr. James Kinder of Pittsburg, highlighted the afternoon's program on Education at the meeting of Lawrence County Federation Tuesday, in Highland U. P. church.

Dr. Kinder, who is head of the Department of Education at Pennsylvania College for Women, went on to say that material aspects of education have been emphasized too much, and the child for whom the system exists, has been forgotten. The tendency has been for every movement, agency and institution to become formal, and over organized, and it is to overcome this attitude, that Progressive Education has been developed.

"Development of normal interests precedes in importance, the imposition of subject matter; education grows out of human experiences, rather than from mere acquisition; of information; subject matter adapted to individual that motivated work achieves richer results than passive learning; that freedom to learn is more compelling than imposed routine, and that individual is a whole personality and must be taught as such because he functions as such."

Basic Philosophy

This in short, is the basic philosophy of Progressive Education, the speaker said, and great strides have been accomplished toward this individualism within the past few years. The movement is new, results being noted principally, in elementary grades, although the influence is now being felt in some colleges, particularly successful, being the few of the latter group established for this purpose.

Dr. Kinder stressed society's sensitivity to youth problems in general, relating numerous projects in which youth in this country, is being protected, rather than exploited, as in many foreign countries. Schools are free from cliques and special interests, attendance is compulsory, and the child is guaranteed a fair start in life.

Outside the schools, the various agencies, churches, clubs and individual groups, are working toward the solution of the youth problem, and within the past few years, the government has supported such organizations as the C. C. C. camps, N. Y. A. and similar groups.

Society has demonstrated time and time again, it stands by youth, and in concluding his very instructive talk, the noted educator admitted educational progress is slow, but hope is eternal that the race will be won.

Dr. Kinder was introduced by Mrs. James L. Vogan, chairman of Department of Education of Lawrence County Federation, through whose efforts, together with those of the program committee, headed by Mrs. S. D. Pearson, the most outstanding program of the year was presented.

Afternoon Session

Afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock, following luncheon at 12:30. For the first time, music was furnished by the Federation Chorus and was keenly enjoyed as a delightful innovation. Two songs were sung, "Music Choral (The Collect by Mrs. Gertrude Martin Rohrer), and "God's Treasures", by Sibelius. Mrs. D. Duff Scott was the most capable director, assisted by Mrs. Eliah Kaplan, who played able accompaniment. The chorus consists of Mrs. W. P. Felch, Mrs. W. A. Woodworth, Mrs. Vennor Bright, Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine, Mrs. D. M. Arnold, Miss Lottie Nicklin, Mrs. E. W. Greiner, Mrs. Ben S. Agnew.

Mrs. Vogan spoke on behalf of the educational committee's project, that of furnishing children's discarded books to rural schools. The need is keen, it being learned that no new books of this nature have been presented in rural communities for the past several years.

Last week, six boxes of books were delivered to County Superintendent J. C. Syling, and to carry on this commendable work, co-operation on the part of any Lawrence county resident, will be appreciated.

There was taken for acceptance of the Grace Greer Scholarship fund, Mrs. S. M. Matheny receiving the donations from the various clubs in the absence of Mrs. Greer.

Mrs. G. W. Short, delegate to the conference on the Cause and Cure of War held in Chicago recently, gave her report. "The important issue at the conference," she said, was Neutrality Legislation, the general notable speakers all stressing neutrality of a discretionary nature.

Highlights of the program heard by some 800 delegates from almost every state in the union, included addresses by Miss Josephine Schain, national chairman, just returned from South America where she attended the Inter-American Peace conference; Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, dean of Chicago University Chapel, and Raymond Leslie Buell, who considered leading political events of the year that affected the war situation. There was a University of Chicago round table of faculty members on the question, "Will It Happen Again?" and there were reports of two study commissions on National Defense and the Relation of War to the Economic Life with recommendations.

Morning Session

In the morning, the entire session was given over to a panel discussion led by Mrs. Joseph B. Dury, state chairman of education, on the general theme, Education. She was assisted by several local women discussing various phases.

Mrs. Dury brought out in her talk (1) purpose or aims of education; (2) content of education; (3) how to measure education; (4) how to support education. She showed keen, alive appreciation of all educational problems, asking the speakers may pertinent questions relating to their individual topics.

Mrs. Roy A. Long dealt with the first sub-topic, "Education is the Process of Soul Environment." She pictured the old fashioned school she attended—the one room with a stove in the center, one teacher for all grades. A little later, this type was replaced with the four room school with two grades to a room, then there were three years of high school.

She spoke of the difference in curriculum in her day and today, emphasizing the idea, "Schools of yesterday should not be called 'better' or worse" than those of today, but "Did they fill the need of the day?" Observing successful men and women about us, the answer is "yes, they did."

She was grateful for the discipline of early days, and in connection with her talk, she had a good display of McGuffey readers and modern books.

Art Education

Speaking on another phase, Mrs. Frank L. Burton said, "I believe in Art education, because no education is complete without it. It enriches the life of a child, each one being endowed with the power to create. Art study allows it to be released soon enough for it to do some good.

The purpose of Art education summed up: (1) enriches life of child; (2) satisfies creative instinct; (3) develops taste and appreciation; (4) provides initial training for those of real ability; (5) furnishes instruction in use of leisure time.

Mrs. J. Elder Bryan's subject was entitled "Why Have Vocational Training?" She defined the phase as a term relating to intelligent direction of young people in choice of life work. This guidance was found necessary when statistics showed that only about one-fourth of the pupils who entered first grade ever reached high school, and that fully 50% never went beyond sixth grade, and that more than a million such youths annually filled ranks of industry, most of them totally unprepared for their work.

Seek Vocational Schools

A plea was made for co-operation in re-opening vocational departments in the Junior high schools in New Castle schools. Federal aid for this purpose is $7,400 and the speaker thought somethings should be done about it; that useful machinery should be gotten out of storage and put in running order again.

To demonstrate the practicability of vocational guidance in the local high school, Mrs. Viola Healy, head of the department of Home Economics, displayed splendid handwork of some of her students, among which was a dress made by a 17 year old girl. She spoke of other lines of guidance in which her students show proficiency and replaced the old idea of "Domestic Science" with the new which is—take every activity of home and try to reproduce it faithfully in the class room for detailed study.

To conclude the morning session, voted extremely good, Miss Marjorie Rhodes of the high school faculty, spoke on "Schools of Today," particularly explaining examinations and grades. She summed up (1) the report card as a means of information of the student's progress in subject—not definite numerical value; (2) does not believe in contests and honor rolls; (3) grades cannot be accurate, the human situation enters too much into the picture; (4) report card as speaker would like it; "A"—High honor, outstanding students recognized by all teachers to be superior; "Satisfactory"; "Unsatisfactory" (have conference with parents and child to further understanding); (5) urged parents to visit schools.

Mrs. Irvine A. Balph extended the welcome from the hostess club, Art, Lawrence County Garden and College groups, following the invocation by Mrs. D. L. Ferguson. The business period was conducted by the president, Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, and visitors included representatives of the Woman's clubs of Wampum, Ellwood City, Grove City, and Mrs. J. A. Edgar of The News.

Host At Cathedral For Entertainment Presented By Firemen

WELL BALANCED PROGRAM GIVEN

Signor Antonio Papania, and his assisting artists, provided a varied program which pleased a large audience in The Cathedral last evening, when they appeared under the auspices of the paid firemen of New Castle for the benefit of their pension fund.

Signor Papania with his powerful voice, sang his way into the hearts of his audience, and he reposed with several encores. His voice penetrated every corner of the vast auditorium as he sang with courage and conviction, the difficult numbers from the Operas Aida and Pagliacci, and gave an artistic rendition of the classical numbers, "A Spirited Flower," and "Invictus," and other numbers.

The assisting artists included Albert Taylor, at the pipe organ, who chimed his program with the number "William Tell," Leon Tosti, who is a violinist of extraordinary ability; Joseph Sebastian, accompanist; and Mrs. Murie Boyd, soprano soloist; with Miss Anna Riegler at the piano as accompanist.

Miss Nellie Brady's dance pupils gave two groups of dance numbers which made a big hit with the audience.

Edward George of Turtle Creek was busy shaving when his face came into the room, relates the Daily News of McKeesport, and he playfully attempted to dab her face with the brush. She dodged, he turned to follow, and little Edward, Jr., 4, was cut on the neck by the razor in his father's other hand. The jugular vein was narrowly missed but the child will recover.

Should supreme court justices retire at 70? No, says an editorial in the Somerset Daily American. "Judges, like wine, improve with age... experience and knowledge increase with years... there is no short cut to wisdom," the editorial stated in part.

Eight thousand forage fish were planted in the Shenango river, near Clarksville, Mercer county, on Monday, is the good news given to Isaac Walton of that district by the Sharon Herald.

Amorous actions of a hitch-hiking girl were responsible for the wrecking of his car on an injury of one person according to W. A. Ream of Pittsburgh in a Butler Eagle story. The girl who he had "picked up" along with a girl companion from the Franklin highway, threw her arms around his neck, he said, and the car was wrecked when he tried to fight her off.

Union High Ready For Amateur Show

Auditions Being Made This Week To Select Suitable Talent For Play

Auditions were started this week to find talent for the "Radio Varieties" show which is being sponsored by the Palette club of the Union township high school. This student production will be presented on March 5, in the school auditorium.

According to Merrill C. Young, instructor in charge of this play, over half of the available seats for the performance have already been reserved, and all indications point to a very successful affair.

All of the talent used in the show will be entirely amateur and taken from the classes in the school. Many imitated radio celebrities will be present the evening of March 5, to take part in the show. Singing, dancing, musical skits and jokes are in the make-up of the show which will be very entertaining.

In next year's Memorial Day auto race at Indianapolis, the entry having the best gasoline mileage will be awarded a special prize of $2,500.

Dr. Helen Martin Will Be Speaker

Westminster, Graduate, Head Of Cairo College To Address Students

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 17.—Dr. Helen Martin, president of the American mission college, Cairo, Egypt, and a graduate of Westminster college, will speak in chapel, 10:30 P.M. today, February 19, Westminster college.

Attempts to raise funds for the mission college and a furlough will keep Miss Martin in the United States this year. At commencement 1936, Miss Martin was given an honorary doctor's degree by the college, and became the first woman graduate to be so honored in the history of Westminster.

Miss Martin has been with the American Girls college in Egypt for fourteen years. During that time it has grown into a modern institution, with a ten-acre campus and three well-equipped buildings. The student body ranges from the daughters of cabinet members in the Egyptian government to daughters of the poor. The course offered is equivalent to that of an American junior college.

"One of the many jobs that a teacher in Egyptian schools is called upon to perform is match-making," according to Dr. Martin. It is not unusual for a student to ask a professor to find him an attractive and competent wife among the students.

Eighty-five per cent of the people of Egypt are still illiterate, according to Dr. Martin; but the trend of education is moving upward.

For two years, Dr. Martin served as Dean of Women at Westminster, before entering the mission field.

Coal Commission Ready To Start State Campaign

Will Seek To Eliminate Evil Of "Bootleg" Coal Mines In Pennsylvania

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 17.—Pennsylvania's five-man anthracite investigating commission, its members awaiting confirmation by the state senate, plans to hold its first official meeting in Philadelphia on Friday, it was learned today.

Concerned principally with the so-called "bootleg" coal problem, the commission of an educator, economist, attorney, publisher and corporation executive will establish its headquarters in Philadelphia, it was further disclosed.

For close-hand study of anthracite "bootlegging"—the $32,000,000-a-year industry whose socio-economic ramifications prompted the creation of the investigating body—consideration also was being given establishment of sub-headquarters at Shamokin or Pittsville, probably the latter.

Four of the five members met with Gov. George H. Earle here yesterday and selected William J. Lauck, Washington economist as their chairman. Governor Earle was to meet Morris L. Ernst, New York attorney, the fifth member, in Washington today.

Other members of the body, each of whom will receive $1 a month and expenses from a $50,000 appropriation of the legislature to which they must report this session, are Dr. James W. Angell, Columbia university professor; William R. Lyne, Scranton publisher, and Harrison Hoblitzel, Philadelphia Steel Corporation head.

SYMPTOMS

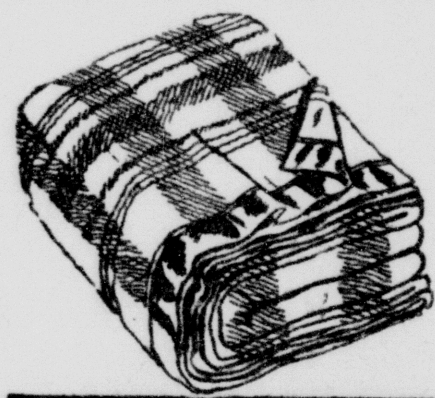

The itching and irritation of psoriasis is readily relieved by Resinol Ointment, an old formula containing ingredients well known to physicians for their effectiveness.

To get best results, wash off the scales with a pure, mild soap. Resinol Soap is gently medicated and free from excess alkali. Use it with warm water, then rinse and pat dry.

Spread Resinol Ointment evenly over the surface, letting it remain for several hours during the day and overnight. Note how quickly its oily base enables the Resinol medication to soothe the angry skin.

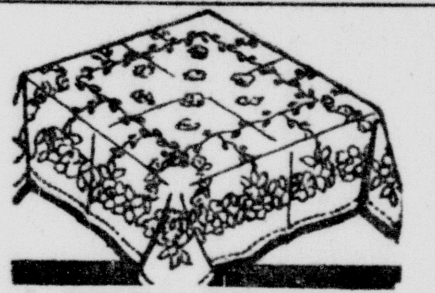

Even when the rash begins to fade, do not stop using Resinol too soon. The eruptions of psoriasis have a tendency to recur. For this reason it is advisable to continue Resinol applications to soothe the irritation, as long as any trace of it remains.

Get Resinol Ointment and Soap at any drug store. Sample free. Write Resinol, Dept. 19, Balto., Md.

J. C. PENNEY COMPANY, IncorporatedChicago Policeman
Arrests Own Wife

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Policeman Edward J. Kelly had enhanced his reputation as "a good copper" today.

Officer Kelly has had some tough jobs during his 14 years on the force, but battling criminals as a member of the gambling and vice squad was easy work compared to what he had to do yesterday.

Kelly arrested his 30-year-old wife and saw her booked for manslaughter.

Wife Confesses
Walking into the office of Police Captain Andrew Barry accompanied by his wife, Kelly declared: "She is ready to confess. She drove the automobile that killed Attorney Henry L. Chatroop the night of January 17."

Mrs. Kelly said she fled from the scene because she was afraid the accident would hurt her husband's standing on the force, but that her conscience finally forced her to tell him.

"I haven't been able to sleep. I don't know why I didn't tell Ed sooner. I feel better now," Mrs. Kelly said.

The "good copper" proved to be a good husband when he declared: "When we married we were married for good. This won't make any difference."

The "good copper's" wife, released on $2,500 bond, was to be arraigned today.

Anniversary Of
P. T. A. Is Being Observed Today

This Is 40th Anniversary Of Parent-Teacher Movement
In United States

This is P. T. A. Founder's Day, set aside each year in the local parent-teacher associations as a tribute to the ideals and traditions which have made the parent-teacher movement a significant part of home, school and community life in this country.

Founder's Day in the National Congress of Parents and Teachers was first celebrated on February 17, 1910, and was originated by Mrs. David O. Mears, who at that time was president of the New York Congress, the first to be organized.

The Lawrence county units and their executive committee are celebrating the day by special programs and speakers in their meetings this week, according to the county president, Mrs. C. R. Brenner, of New Castle.

Tree planting by the P. T. A.'s throughout the United States will be an important feature of the 40th anniversary program, and the local units are co-operating in the plan. Mrs. Brenner has suggested that the members plant redbud (Cercis canadensis).

A plan adopted at the recent meeting of the national board of managers recommends that each of the 25,000 local associations, councils and state branches plant a tree during the year 1937 in honor of the congress and its founders as a permanent mark of the anniversary. The American tree association will issue enrollment cards to participating groups upon notification that a tree has been planted.

cluding 15,000 cock pheasants and 3,500 quail for spring release," it was announced. "The 1936-37 game purchase program compares most favorably with those of recent years."

Since wheels and tires are carefully balanced, tools or instruments should not be attached to valve stems or wheels, as excess weight at any point causes uneven riding at high speeds.

Gold Diggers Are Coming Back

When Saps Begin To Spend
Girls Who Live By Wits
Have Better Times
Too

OLD STORIES TURN OUT BEST

By O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The Gold Digger, living on scant rations for several years, is getting back into the glitter, again. Wall street and the night clubs are flourishing, which means the girls who live by their wits are coming down from their walk-ups and glancing upward at the Park Ave. pents again.

Many of them believe that the high-ho era of chinchilla and day and night chauffeurs is in the offing. When the spenders begin to spend, the ladies have little to fear for the future. For there has always been enough saps to go around—and to spare.

It is estimated that some 20,000 crepe de Chine sirens were forced into the hum-drummy of kitchenettes in far flung suburbs when the market took its historic nose dive and straying husbands began to sit around home tuning in on Amos 'n Andy.

Some of the gals in the interlude have been check-mated by ravages of time and the law abolishing love balm, that made existence, a platinum, immodest cinch. But many others are dipping into the rouge pots and plucking their eye-brows, confident that happy days are here again.

The other evening I went up to Spuyten Duyvil and climbed many steps to a building that teetered on the very point of a bluff, like a tippy chalet on a Pyrenean crag overlooking the Hudson and Harlem rivers and the new single span bridge. The living room offered a view rarely matched in New York. I mused, "What a room this would be in which to sit at a typewriter on a rainy afternoon, snug by an open fire, and peck out a column." And my host, a writer, as though divining my thought, observed: "I rented this place because this room seemed a grand place to write. But I have never been able to write a line in it. I just sit and stare." Writing is that sort of a trade.

Buddy Ebsen, the loose-limbed dancer, seems the only cinema performer a bit proud of his gawky manner and homeliness. His hair is always in touse, his coat sleeves, too short and he never uses makeup. Yet an observer in Hollywood tells me Ebsen has become one of the "personality plus" boys that tremulous young things hang about the studio gates to see. Burgess Meredith is another with the same sort of oafish look, enormous talent and what-it-takes.

Some times the old stories go best. At Henry Sell's the other evening the tales were mostly the witty efforts of cosmopolites. References to gay European capitals, skiing at St. Moritz and cute cullings of international brightness. Yet the story that chivvied up the heftiest laugh was drawn by a home-spun fellow visiting from deep Minnesota. It was that venerable one of the Swede who went buggy riding with his girl, preposed, secured a ready acceptance and then lapsed into a five-mile-long silence. Finally the girl asked Ole why he didn't say something and he answered he believed he had said too much already.

And that recalls the ilk assailing so many of us upon reading modern poetry. Lines that suddenly dangle and hang fire, leaving us in somewhat a quandary. Flibberty-jibberty jingles. I prefer the soothe of "The curfew tolls the knell of parting day... the lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea—" They have to step some to tie that kind of poetizing.

It was in one of the fashionable buttermilk ahum with fire-cracker talk, hurrying waiters and cocktail mixing. Back of the bar were three ambidextrous fellows filling shouted orders for Bacardis, Daiquiris and Side Cars. One was a hard-working colored man who, in midst of the stir, took time out to receive from patrons empty cigarette packages from which he took and put away tin foil. A red-faced drinker, peering over his beaker of Courvoisier, asked the why. "I turns it into a hospital," he explained, "where it is sold to buy milk for sick babies."

Incidentally, while standing at this bar my second call for a glass of sweet milk annoyed a gentleman beginning to focus off center. A bit weavy, he eyed me up and down and blurted: "You know what?" I was all obedient, being a craven who expects every drunk to sock me smack in the jaw. So he repeated: "You know what? It's fellows like you that make it tough for a lot of good cows."

BATTLE OF HANOVER

Do you know that 10,000 men on both sides were in hostile array in the battle of Hanover during the Civil War?

This battle in Hanover, York county, was one which occurred by sheer accident. Neither of the famous generals, Stuart or Kilpatrick, knew the exact location of the enemy 24 hours before the real battle began.

At 8 o'clock on the morning of June 30, 1863, General Kilpatrick, with his staff, entered Hanover. Closely following him was General Custer.

The first gun of the actual fighting was fired at 10:30 a. m. In a report of the battle General Kilpatrick stated that about 15 Confederates had been killed and 47 wounded. His own loss he reported as being 11 killed and a number wounded.

The real importance of the engagement is magnified by the fact that the troops of both sides were led by the most distinguished cavalry officers of the war.

In order to aid tax payers who have failed to file their personal property tax returns, the county commissioners have placed Miss George in the lobby for a few days. Taxpayers who file now are assessed a ten per cent penalty on their state four mill return. The penalty does not apply to the county return.

PLAN FIGHTING MACHINE OF 750,000 MEN IN U. S.

Secret Plans Are Formulated

Adequate Defense Force For Nation Is Being Designated Now

SPEEDY MOBILIZATION WOULD BE POSSIBLE

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service
Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The army's high command has formulated a secret plan for mobilizing a highly trained, completely equipped fighting machine of 750,000 men on 24 hour's notice,
International News Service
learned today.

This formidable force is considered adequate to prevent any world power from gaining lodgement on United States soil.

Those responsible for the national defense are mindful that modern aggressors no longer bother to declare war formally, but strike without warning. They remember the lesson of the World War, that it took 18 months to train and equip citizens into an effective army.

The army of 750,000 men is planned as a nucleus which, it is believed, could effectively withstand any attack while the whole nation was being thrown onto a war basis.
No change is now contemplated in the numerical strength of the present army, officials said. This is now being brought up to its authorized quota of 165,000. The balance would come from trained and equipped reserves.

The industrial mobilization plan pending in congress, would place all the nation's resources at the command of the president to provide the funds, food, ammunition, fighting machines and other material essential for war.

Plan 150,000 Trained Reserves
The war department will ask congress this session, it was learned, to authorize a reserve force of 150,- 000 trained enlisted men. This force would be formed by men who remain in the reserves for four years after they complete their 3-year regular enlistment in active service.

They would retain their full equipment, except arms, and be ready to spring to arms overnight.

The army high command insists the modern mechanized army must have trained men. The soldier today is a specialist. He must have an intimate knowledge of the handling of highly technical fighting machines, machine-guns, tanks, many types of motorized vehicles, chemical weapons, aerial warfare equipment, all types of automatic fire weapons and artillery.

The balance of the 750,000 trained personnel would come from: the National Guard, approximately 250,- 000; the officers reserve corps, 115,- 000; (these would be trained leaders). While the air force would be increased with commercial airline pilots.

In its program of revitalization,
the army will make a practical test in the west this summer of a plan to cut the unwieldy world war divisions of 27,000 men to units of 13,000 capable of great mobility. The reduction of size units is expected to be extended throughout the army, from the company to the corps and various armies. At the same time experiments will be conducted for a complete redesigning of field uniform and equipment.

Father Of Local Resident Fatally Burned At Salem

Loren T. French, aged 79 years, of Salem, O., died in a hospital there on Tuesday the result of severe burns received the night before when he fell across a stove in his home.

Mr. French was the father of H.
W. French, of 326 Wallace avenue, this city. The funeral services are to be conducted Friday afternoon in the Stark funeral home at Salem and burial will be made at that city also.

January Has Freak Weather

Official Data Reveals Peculiar Weather Condition
In State

EXCESSIVE RAINS OCCUR IN MONTH

HARRISBURG, Feb. 17.—Surveys just completed by the Department of Forests and Waters in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey emphasize the eccentric climatic conditions which existed in Pennsylvania last month.

As represented by records for the six first-order stations of the United States Weather Bureau in the state, the mean monthly temperature and precipitation were abnormally high, and the amounts of snowfall were exceptionally low.

During the entire period of Weather Bureau records for Pennsylvania the high monthly mean temperature and precipitation for January 1937, have seldom been reached or exceeded during the first month of any year.

Furthermore, the universal consistency of this unusual phenomena —high temperature, high precipitation and slight snowfall throughout the state as a whole, was outstanding.

The temperature averaged 8.3 degrees above normal for the month.
It ranged from 7.0 degrees above the mean at Pittsburgh to 9.4 degrees above the average at Reading.
There was an average excess of 2.3 inches in precipitation ranging from 1.2 inches above the mean at Pittsburgh.

The stream flows in Pennsylvania were unusually high for January, and flood stages were exceeded in many streams west of the Allegheny mountains.

Perhaps, as Secretary James F.
Bogardus, of the Department of Forests and Waters, points out, the most remarkable feature in connection with the January 1937 stream flows was the absence of any ice effects throughout the entire month.

The flow in the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg was the highest January flow during the 47 years record 1891 to 1937. It was nearly two and one half times the normal flow for the month and was almost twenty per cent, above the combined normal flows for January and February.

The Ohio river at Pittsburgh approached the flood stage of 25 feet on two occasions within a period of six days and exceeded the flood stage three times by heights ranging from 3.1 to 9.5 feet in a period of eight days. All five of these high stages occurred within the limits of sixteen days.

As a result of impounding water in the Pymatuning Reservoir, the stage of the Shenango river at Sharon and the industrial districts in that vicinity were reduced from 1.5 to 2.0 feet on three occasions within a period of ten days.

Noonday Games At Senior High Added To Daily Routine

Outdoor Basketball Courts Being Erected In Rear Of School

In a very short time students in the senior high school will be engaged in some enjoyable activity during their lunch hour, stated Professor Frank L. Orth today. There will be basketball, rifle shooting, group singing, interest groups, and many other activities going on in various parts of the building. The noonday activities idea proved so popular during last semester at the school, that Mr. Orth states they will be resumed within a few days.

In addition to the activities of last year, will be a number of newly conceived ideas. One will be a rifle club. This club will be divided into two groups, one composed of boys and the other of girls. Quite a number of persons have expressed their desire for such an organization.
Group singing also was a favorite last semester and will be tried again this term. The group gathers in the auditorium each lunch period, and under the direction of one of the instructors, they sing rousing songs, which tend to put them in better spirits and relieve the tension of their school work.

Another new feature will be outdoor basketball playing. Two full-sized courts are being erected to the rear of the school building for the use of the students at any time that they desire. According to Mr. Orth the Pennsylvania Power company erected poles on the grounds for the bankboards, and S. G. Ligo, superintendent of buildings and grounds for the schools, is constructing the other accessories for the courts. According to Mr. Orth, provision will be made whereby students who wish to play on these courts may do so whenever they wish.

All of the other activities which were so popular last term will be in use again in a very short time, and they will do much to add to the enjoyment of school life.

Industrial operations in the district are improving and Gordon believes more calls will come, and added:

"We want skilled men registered in our office. It will help us and help the men."
The office within the past few weeks has placed a considerable number of applicants in jobs in private industry, Mr. Gordon stated.

There's a scarcity of skilled labor in New Castle right now—or the Federal-State Employment office in the Johnson building has discovered that condition in its efforts to locate men for special jobs in private industry during the past few weeks.
"We've requests for welders, machinists and others from local and Beaver Valley plants," reported Supervisor Archie Gordon, "but we can't find the qualified men." He said it seems the prediction that a scarcity would come in skilled labor has come true.

"We're doing our very best to contact men," Mr. Gordon explained.
"We'll continue to."

'TOBACCO ROAD' HERE ON MARCH 1

Taylor Holmes And Cast To Appear In Notable Show At Cathedral Auditorium

"Tobacco Road," the first outstanding Broadway stage success to visit New Castle since "The Green Pastures" several years ago, is coming to the Cathedral auditorium for one performance Monday, March 1.
Taylor Holmes, noted stage, screen and radio star, heads the cast. This company comes here directly from Pittsburgh where it plays an engagement at the Nixon theatre. This is the only company on tour and has been seen this season in St.
Louis, Cleveland, Columbus, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va.

Written by Jack Kirkland and based on Erskine Caldwell's novel of the same name, "Tobacco Road," which tells a story of the penniless share-croppers of Georgia, is, with one exception, the only stage play in the history of the American theatre to run 1400 times on Broadway. It is now in its fourth year there. Its powerful and moving tale of tenant farmers, people who live in squalor and misery knowing nothing but sex and religion, has been praised by such literary celebrities as Alexander Woolcott, George Jean Nathan and Marc Connelly, and it has been widely discussed throughout the nation.

Taylor Holmes, who heads the cast to be seen at the Cathedral auditorium, has starred in such Broadway successes as "The Nervous Wreck," "His Majesty Bunker Bean,"
"No No Nanette" and many others.
He was one of the first stage stars to enter motion pictures and he made many silent pictures and since has been prominent in the talking films, among his recent releases being "Make Way for a Lady," "The Crime of Doctor Forbes" and "The First Baby." He will have the central role of the middle-aged, shiftless and philosophic share-cropper, Jeeter Lester.

Others in the company include such prominent players as Florence Gerald, Vinnie Phillips, Pitt Herbert, Merrill Boyden, Sally Sande-son, Lillian Ardell, William Bishop, Walter Ayers, Dick Lee and Harry Townes.

Outside of New York "Tobacco Road" has been shown in more than 100 of the larger cities of the country, running twenty weeks on the Pacific coast, ten weeks in Philadelphia, seven in Chicago, five in Boston, and four in St. Louis while it also has been shown in Cincinnati, Baltimore, Buffalo, Seattle, Portland, Ore., Toledo and Cleveland.

itive Methodist

mence at 7:30, prayer services at 7 p.m. Miss Hazel Roadarmel is the evangelist.

This evening the child singer Phyllis MacKenzie will sing and each evening's service.

New Lights Aid Students At Work In High School

New Lighting Fixtures Placed
In Old Portion Of Senior High

Students at the Senior high school will no longer suffer eye strain for lack of good lighting facilities because the entire building has been completely outfitted with new lights, shades and new type fixtures.

These fixtures were installed several weeks ago and the large white shades fitted to them, but defects were found in the shades and they were removed. New shades have now been put in place and the building shines like a new penny.
According to Principal Frank L.
Orth, the old fixtures in the rooms of the building are as old as a quarter of a century, and furnished poor light for the students while at work.
Approximately 200 new lights have been placed in the old portion of the school building, it not being necessary to place new fixtures in the annex due to the fact that these lights are of a modern type.

AROUND CITY HALL

Operations at the city disposal plant are now normal according to Frank Nugent, supervisor. For some time after the high water considable surface water entered the sanitary sewer system. It is proposed by council to add several pumps to the plant so that should high water again arrive it will be possible to force the water from the plant into the river.

Probabilities are that within a short time a GMC truck offered for sale to the city will be returned with all of the corrections desired
by City Mechanic Charles Colnot having been made. Colnot advised council not to accept the truck. He claimed an axle was too small for the truck. Company officials agreed to do this and also make other changes. The truck was sent to Pittsburgh and probably will be brought back within a short time and bought.

For the first course serve grapefruit salad with olives and cheese straws. Cut grapefruit in halves, remove pulp in large pieces with teaspoon or grapefruit spoon; remove fibers, refill with fruit sections and pour over it French dressing made with lemon—not vinegar.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!—To Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest.
It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carier's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carier's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 20c.

Flood Waters Still In Harbor Fields

Water is still to be found in many fields in the vicinity of the Harbor bridge. The territory around this point was completely submerged with water several weeks ago, and as the road acted as a dam, the water did not recede from the fields on the opposite side of the road from the river.

Very little damage was incurred to the road, which is of the Pinchot type, but all of the bank on both sides of the road has been rebuilt. This was carried down stream by the receding water.

BESSEMER HIGH WINS SECTION 21 TITLE

DEFEAT UNION HIGH 27 TO 22

Harold DeArment And Nick Calderaro Star For Bessemer In Coveted Victory

Second Straight Year For Bessemer High As Sectional Champions

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Pa., Feb. 17.—Bessemer High school basketball team for the second straight year has pinned the Section 21 flag on the Bessemer High flag-mast. Last night a 27 to 22 victory over a fighting Union High team gave the Bessemers the championship. New Wilmington and Wampum, the two teams that still had a chance, were upset and so right out of the picture.

Bessemer now has a two game lead and only one game to play. The Fredericks coached machine is "in" for another year thanks to Harold DeArment and Nick Calderaro for their sterling play last night in which they made 23 of the Bessemer points between them.

The Bessemers jumped into the lead at the very outset of the battle at 7 to 3 for the first stanza. The end of the first half found the Bessemers still leading 14 to 10, with Union looking a little better. The end of the third session it was 19 to 18 with it being anybody's ball game. Union was looking better all the time.

Zingo in the fourth period the Union went into a one point lead and it looked like curtains for the Fredericks, but at this point Union lost Stevenson the center on four personals and then a few minutes later Pattison is forced out on fouls and the Union promptly folded up and the Bessemers slid to another championship.

Two Forced Out
It was a tough old ball game for Union to kick away after the brilliant comeback that they staged from a four-point disadvantage in the first chapter.

Bessemer's attack as said before was led by Harold DeArment and Nick Calderaro the former having 13 of the points and the latter 10. For the Union the work of Davies with six points and Wotowitz with six points was the best, with Stevenson playing a fine game at center until he was forced out. In the final period Bessemer made eight points and Union made four.

Poor On Fouls
In foul tossing the Bessemers didn't do so hot with 5 out of 15, and neither did Union making but 6 out of 14.

Bessemer will end its sectional play with Wampum High at Bessemer on Friday night.

Keystones Will Go To Aliquippa

The Keystone A. C. basketball team after a week's rest will go to Aliquippa Thursday to meet the strong Plodine Celtics on the high school floor at Aliquippa. The players are to report at the club rooms at 6:30 o'clock on Thursday evening.

New Castle At Butler Friday

New Castle High will close the section three race at Butler High on Friday night. The Castles won the game played here earlier in the year, but look for a tough engagement at Butler.

Louis And Brown Battle Tonight

Joe Louis Is Expected To Make Short Work Of Nate Brown Tonight

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 17.—Trainer Jack Blackburn today advised Kansas City's boxing fans who have paid or will pay $25,000 to see Joe Louis fight Nate Brown tonight, to be sure and bring along enough change for a late movie.

For, Blackburn said, "the match won't go far. Joe's going to take this boy quick."

The affair is scheduled to go 10 rounds, and Brown has assured his backers he will stay the limit against Bomber Joe, his confidence springing, perhaps, from a previous meeting at Detroit in March 1935, when he went the full 10 rounds against Louis, of that match Blackburn said:

"Brown went the distance before Stevenson, he cheated, stalling for time by sticking his head through the ropes, and running, and grabbing. In addition Joe was crude. He has improved a great deal since then and Brown will find it tough to evade him."

Franklin High Upsets Sharon

Score Is 13 To 9 At Franklin High Court On Tuesday Afternoon

Ben Franklin junior high basketball team handed the Sharon junior high giants a 13 to 9 upsetting yesterday afternoon at the Franklin high floor. The score at the half was 4 to 1 in favor of Franklin. There were no outstanding performers in the game on either side.

The Sharon team beat the Franklin at Sharon earlier in the year and the Wallace coached team was just getting a little revenge yesterday.

The next game for Franklin is on Monday night with Mahoning high in which the Franklin can win the city junior high title with a victory. Mahoning can tie for the championship by another victory over the East Siders.

Return Verdict In Coal Mine Case

After deliberating for five hours Tuesday the jury hearing the case of F. W. Hall, G. M. Arp, Theodore Altmeire and Harvey Sumney against Steve Rososhan and Caroline Smrdley awarded the plaintiffs $2,398.90 damages. The verdict is directed against only Steve Rososhan. The case was one in which the plaintiffs averred they had leased a coal mine from the defendants and that after installing some machinery and starting to work on a five year lease their contract was broken and they were ordered to cease operations. They asked for $10,000 estimated profits in addition to liquidated damages.

BECAUSE BOB FELLER is still growing, General Manager Cy Slapnicka of the Indians thinks once a week will be often enough for the Iowa striker-out to pitch. That would give the 18-year-old fast-baller 22 chances to start. How many do you think he'll win? My brazen guess is 14.

Though Feller will train with the Indians in New Orleans, he will keep up with his school work on the side. A senior at Tulane university will help Master Robert with his algebra lessons. Shenango Trims New Wilmington By 20-14 Count

East New Castle Cagers Crash Through With Surprise Victory

LARGE CROWD SEES EXCITING CONTEST

In an upset in section 21 circles, Shenango township high school basketball team crashed through with a 20-14 triumph over the powerful New Wilmington high cagers Tuesday night on the Shenango high hardwood. A large crowd witnessed the exciting battle.

Presenting an airtight defense, the East New Castle quintet rolled up their sleeves in the opening period and went right to work, connecting for three markers while the college towners failed to register. Led by Ovis and Pitzer, Shenango pulled through with six more points in the second canto, while their foes annexed five at the halftime whistle sounded.

The schoolboys battled evenly in the next stanza, garnering four points each. The East New Castle Wildcats didn't let up for a moment, scoring seven more points while New Wilmington hit the mesh for five more. The final score, 20-14. The steadily improving Shenango team, which has lost quite a few games by a "thin" margin, looked impressive throughout.

For Shenango Pitzer, Ovis and Lysko played outstanding basket ball, while Verier and Davis looked the best for the losers. The defeat was a costly one for the New Wilmington passers, who staged a belated rally that put them right in the thick of the fight for section 21 honors until they ran into Shenango. In the preliminary contest the Shenango maidens added another victory, topping the New Wilmington lassies.

Friday night Shenango plays at Princeton. Zelenople high will be the attraction at Shenango Tuesday evening. Zelenople, coached by a former Westminster star, is one of the outstanding quintets in the district.

(Special To The News)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 17.—The Westminster Titans were defeated here last night by the Villanova quintet, 27 to 10. The Villanova defense was the best that the Titans have hit all year and consequently the boys from Western Pennsylvania made but two field goals.

The Villanova made 10 field goals and seven fouls to grab the victory. Montgomery and Krutulis led the scoring attack for the Villanova.

Tonight the Westminster team will play at West Chester Teachers to end their eastern invasion.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Basketball championship of Pittsburgh was won by the Pitt Panthers last night when they defeated Carnegie Tech, 43 to 37, at Pittsburgh. The Panthers caged enough points in the first half to prevent the Plaid winning out in the last half. Jesko, forward, and Garcia, guard, scored a total of 23 points for Pitt. Felsner and Gibson, forwards for Carnegie Tech, scored the same number of points for their team.

Washington & Jefferson trampled over Bethany in basketball, 51 to 37, at Bethany last night. Harry Jeanette, forward, hooped 15 points, and Bouhar, center for the Presidents, scored 12 points. Bliston, forward for Bethany, dropped four field goals and two foul goals through the hoops.

Hiram travelled to Meadville and received a 26 to 17 defeat at the hands of Allegheny. The Methodists piled up a commanding lead in the first half. White set the pace for Allegheny with 10 points. At one period of the game Allegheny rang up 13 consecutive points before Hiram pulled themselves together.

Glenview Teachers went to Latrobe and downed St. Vincent, 44 to 35. It was the third defeat for St. Vincent in 11 games. St. Vincent regulars played an indifferent game during the first three periods. The Reserves were sent into the game, made a rally but it ended short of victory.

Having stayed 10 rounds with Joe Louis in 1935, Nate Brown believes he can repeat tonight when he meets the Detroit bomber at Kansas City. Promoters believe the gate receipts will reach $30,000.

New Hampshire earned a net profit of $334,001 from part-mutual betting last year, after deducting $18,035, as the cost of operating the commission, according to a report made by Governor Francis P. Murphy.

Mt. Jackson Tops Wampum

Score Is 30 To 24 At Wampum And Is Upset Of Hectic Section 21 Season

Mt. Jackson high rode the crest of the flood of field goals last night at the Wampum high floor right to a 30 to 24 major upset of the lard fighting Wampum high quintet and incidentally knocked the Wampum right out of any further consideration in the section.

The Wampum team led at the first half 16 to 10, but couldn't hold the lead in the second half of the battle. Fontana, who was hurt in the New Wilmington game, played only a few minutes. He was greatly missed at his guard post. Flumer, Fiddell and McBride carried the scoring burden for the Wampumites with 19 of the points between them.

Keeley and McConnell led the attack for the Mt. Jacksons with 15 of the points between them. Davis and Houk also played fine basketball.

In the girls' game the Mt. Jackson girls defeated the Wampum maidens, 44 to 25.

Some Lines From Yesteryear

Softball is not an old game, but winning softball championships is an old story with Fat Reed. He has managed teams which won five flags, which is a record not to be sneezed at. A. B. Jackson recalls when the West Side Indies beat Brent two out of three games for the county title. This was prior to the formation of the Lawrence county league. One game went 15 innings and another lasted 12 innings. The roster was Guinbaugh, c; Mesal, ss; Skinner, lb; Jackson, 2b; Rhodenbaugh, 3b and p; Wilcox, lf; O'Brien, cf; Withers, rf; Walls and Ryan, p. Swimming Teams At Slippery Rock

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Feb. 17.—The Slippery Rock swimming team will entertain two district opponents in their home waters this week. The Rockets meet the Grove City tankers today and play host on Saturday to the Indiana Teachers nators. Neither of these visiting teams should tax the Rocket mermen who have won three important meets in succession. Among the recently vanquished opponents are Carnegie Tech and Allegheny.

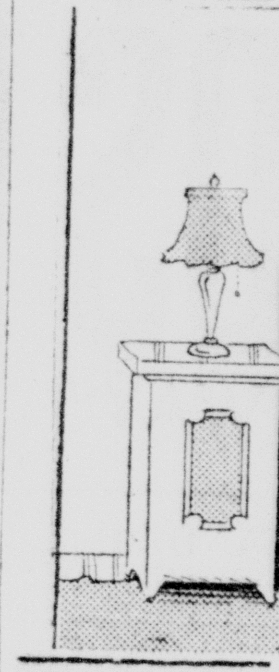

Varsity swimming is a comparatively recent sport at Slippery Rock but in two years it has become one of the most outstanding on the campus. Bill Manke, Al Faust and George Swearingen, all former Pittsburgh high school stars, are the nucleus of the Rocket team.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEFALL

Attended the Firemen's Benefit Concert last night... maybe Albert Taylor didn't tickle that organ, it has been ages since I have had the pleasure to enjoy the Cathedral Organ and last night was a treat... a special treat was his accordion orchestra, you should have them play for you some time... some times a violin is out of place at a concert but the way Leon Tosti played it was a pleasure to listen... he gave variety to the program Miss Nellie Brade presented her dancing pupils, let me tell you we have some real talent here in New Castle... Signor Papania's voice was like the blow of a cornet... his Ave Maria with the organ will long be remembered.

A very nice crowd attended the concert... it was for one of the worthiest causes in New Castle... the fire eater in my mind is a noble profession that takes courage and the utmost skill.

What will happen to a certain young professional man... now that a certain young lady has announced her engagement?

Asked a very dear friend of mine the other day what time he left his girls house and he said... "She went to sleep about one o'clock so I went home."... there's more ways than one to send the boy friend home.

Keep your eye on Raymond Street... they have some mighty nice looking gals up that way. Have been trying to meet one but it seems that we poor English slayers haven't a chance.

What would you give, to have some one do your running around after a buyer or seller... plenty I bet... well, that is what the classified want-ads do.

Recovery In Stock Market

Three Days Of Reclining Prices Comes To Sudden Halt Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Three days of declining prices in the stock market were ended today, as the list staged a broad recovery movement under the stimulus of favorable business news and a fresh crop of bullish annual corporate reports for 1936.

The stock exchange move to eliminate "free-riding" on three-day trades had little effect on the market, Wall Street generally regarding the move as constructive.

Strength in coppers reflected the rise in domestic prices yesterday to 14 cents a pound. Gains ran from more than a point, with Kennecott, International Nickel and Anaconda most prominent.

Low-priced motors were in heavy demand. Studebaker opened a new high of 20 while Reo was turned over in blocks running to 20,000 shares, making a top above nine Chrysler jumped almost two points and General Motors gained a modest fraction.

Steels scored gains of about a point.

New highs for the last year and more were registered by U. S. Rubber, up two points, Standard Oil of N. J., and Union Carbide.

Utilities, aviation and rails were substantially improved in moderately active dealings. Douglas spurred more than two points.

Bonds were generally higher. Grains and cotton made some headway on the upside.

President Asks Action On Farm Tenancy Problem

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—President Roosevelt called upon congress to adopt a four-point program which he asserted would strike at the roots of the farm tenancy problem.

In a special message to congress Tuesday afternoon wherein he declared "we can no longer postpone action," the president submitted the report drafted by a special committee headed by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. It proposed:

1. Liberal extension of credit on long terms to the type of farm tenants who have the requisite ability and experience to own and operate their own farms but cannot raise the cash;

2. Making of "modest loans" to small owners to prevent them from slipping into tenancy, and similar loans to help the masses of sharecroppers at the very bottom of the agricultural ladder;

3. Retirement by public agencies of land proved to be unsuited for farming, and assistance to the families living thereon in finding homes on good land; and

4. Cooperation with state and local agencies of government to improve the general leasing system.

Problem Is Grave

Stressing the gravity of the problem, Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"Half a century ago, one of every four farmers was a tenant. Today, two of every five are tenants, and on some of our best farm lands, seven of every ten farmers are tenants, all told, they operate land and buildings valued at eleven billion dollars.

"At the same time, owners of family-sized farms have been slipping down. Thousands of farmers commonly considered owners are as insecure as tenants. The farm owner-operator's equity in his property is, on the average, 42 per cent, and in some of our best farming sections, is as little as one-fifth.

"When fully half the total farm population of the United States no longer can feel secure, when millions of our people have lost their roots in the soil, action to provide security is imperative, and will be generally approved.

"A problem of such magnitude is not solved overnight, nor by any one limited approach, nor by the federal government alone. While aggravated by the depression, the tenancy problem is the accumulated result of generations of unthinking exploitation of our agricultural resources, both land and people. We can no longer postpone action. We must begin at once with such resources of man power, money and experience as are available, and with such methods as will call forth the cooperative efforts of local, state and federal agencies of government, and of landlords quite as well as tenants."

LEARNING TO TALK

"I'm a student operator in the Bell Telephone Company. You'd be surprised how much more there is to the job than just operating a switchboard. Making connections quickly and accurately is only a part of it.

"For example, we have to know how to talk! How to speak clearly, courteously, pleasantly. For when you hear my voice I want it to mean a lot to you. I want it to tell you: 'Here's a pleasant, courteous, capable person who is anxious to give you prompt, accurate, pleasing service.'"

Although every telephone must have a number, we never forget that these numbers are really people. The business of helping you reach anybody, anywhere, at any time is a personal service, to be handled with speed and accuracy, but above all with courtesy. Use your telephone more to keep in touch with folks. It's a friendly thing to do—and often a profitable one.
